Draft Behaviour Policy and Procedures Endorsement

- Focus on the conditions for learning - This is based on evidence & research, case studies from the school of England. Tom Bennett and Tim McDonald used as guides, program echoes with ASC expectations.
- Procedures & routines are consistent so everyone can follow to work alongside with students to change behaviour and focus on learning.
- Extra processes in place for behaviour curriculum & expectations
- Weekly lessons & timeliness / entry & exit routines / star app is used for students to follow instructions to tasks. A schedule has been created.
- Curriculum in homeroom and the school is using the pedagogy to teach the behaviour curriculum, it's a working document, alongside is data tracking. Pop up sessions for teachers in a particular period / homeroom
- Expectations of behaviour curriculum, routines & procedures at assemblies. It's a work in progress.
- Focus on consistency from teachers & sub schools.
- Purpose / aim – reward and recognise positive behaviour.
- Tiered system of behaviour focusing on expectations; ongoing lunchtime & afterschool detentions
- Jess Cabbage explained the lunch 2 detention process; 15-minute detention (late to class, specific behaviour, mobile phone breach) and afterschool detentions. Escalation process in place for frequent students / Compass management system to track this process.
- Michelle enquired on the duty of care for the after-school detention and if a student missed the bus
- Lunch time detention is the 1st stage, if a student does not turn up to the lunch time detention, then there is a consequence of an afterschool detention for 30 minutes.
- Parents are informed, student services manager communicates information to parents - students are safe and detention is centralised. Strategies in place before a student does a detention
- Matt questioned on behaviour curriculum calendar identified in Term 1-week 2/3, 4/5 and the level of benchmark in terms of percentage of Increase/Decrease of students exhibiting a certain behaviour.
- Statistics of individuals, classroom, year groups are tracked, and the school is in the process of setting benchmarks on the late to school, late to class and misbehaviour.

Preliminary evidence

- Trend back to class, this has been a massive shift in the increase on the number of students going to class on time/punctuality, as an example at 8:30am there were Nil students at the entrance of the school in comparison to last year. This evidence has made an impact, but the challenge is sustaining this process. This has made a large difference in the classroom and teachers are very appreciative of the process.
